MINNEAPOLIS, MN Feb. 14, 2011 - DuckyWorld Products does not want to keep you hanging any longer... The creators of the Yeowww!® brand of Stinkies Catnip filled Sardine Tins and many other award winning catnip toys is proud to announce, (drum roll please),

YEOWWW! My Cats Balls

Yes, you read it correctly. These three Yeowww! organically grown catnip filled balls are sure to be a hit. My Cats Balls will send cats to new heights of pleasure the minute they start to fondle them. Watch as kitty bats his, ... or her, own balls around the room. No worries, it is purrr-fectly normal and should be encouraged.

DuckyWorld's organically grown catnip filled toys have been known to put the kitten back into any ol' puss and these cat balls are no exception!

"We've made Yeowww! brand catnip toys in all sorts of crazy shapes and sizes," says Kevin Duck, founder of DuckyWorld Products, which has been making Yeowww! catnip toys and other products in Minnesota since 1997. "But until My Cats Balls, we've never made a simple catnip ball that a kitty could get its little paws around and tug on. Go ahead, give them a squeeze... easy on the blue one!"

Yeowww! My Cats Balls are made in the U.S.A. They can be found hanging three balls on one header card; go figure. Yeowww! Catnip products are sold at finer pet stores, gift shops and animal centers throughout the United States, Canada, Europe, Asia and Australia... around the world you could say. Hi Poland.
